

Tasha does not want to interact with people, so she uses a library map to locate the section she is looking for, and only asks a librarian if she cannot find the map. She finds the map, and she is able to see that in this library, the fantasy section is on the second floor. She locates the stairs, and walks up to the second floor. She scans the floor and sees that the ends of the shelves are labeled with their genre names. She scans the shelves until she sees Fantasy, and walks over.